words affected

Many English words carry several meanings, and the file sometimes gave a translation for the wrong one (for example "even" translated as "same" instead of "flat and level"). Every translation was checked against its own example sentence; only the ones that did not match the intended meaning were changed, and correct translations were left untouched. 969 fixes were made across 658 words, with 217 words needing a fix in more than one language.
